Four European Powers Accept 10 Year Peace Treaty

MUSSOLINI'S PACT AGREED UPON SUNDAY

Only Initialing by Diplomats Remains to Place Agreement in Force

DRAFT SENT GENEVA

Roosevelt's Recent Speech on Disarming Believed to Have Aided Cause

ROME, May 22.—(UP)—A treaty binding Europe's leading powers to keep the peace for ten years awaited formal initialing by diplomats today after approval by representatives of the contracting nations—Italy, Great Britain, France and Germany.

Benito Mussolini wrote the pact months ago. He revised it this week-end as an ideal, and perhaps essential, basis for agreement by the disarmament conference at Geneva and the world economic conference which meets at London June 12.

So swiftly did he obtain approval by representatives of the powers for his revised program that when the news was flashed out last night it was greeted with skepticism in other European capitals.

Drafts of the past were due to arrive today at London, Paris, Berlin and Geneva. The plan was for representatives of the contracting nations to initial the Treaty of Geneva, in connection with the disarmament conference. Mussolini prepared to announce its approval in his chamber of deputies today or tomorrow, and if all went well to proclaim his success to the world over an international radio hookup.

It was easy to understand the surprise even in well-informed quarters at news of the pact, for heretofore it has been viewed with misgivings in many influential quarters. It has been modified somewhat, it was understood, from its original form, but it still envisioned eventual revision of the Versailles peace treaty, though within the framework of the League of Nations covenant.

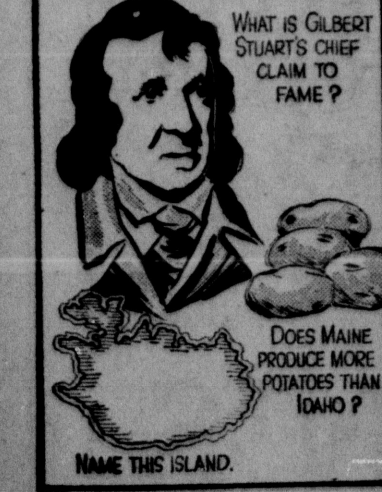

Credit for the pact goes to Mussolini, though President Roosevelt and Ramsay MacDonald, British premier were of material help. MacDonald accepted the pact when he and Sir John Simon, his foreign minister, visited Rome in March. France and Germany held back. Then came President Roosevelt's appeal to the world for peace and disarmament, and Adolf Hitler's temperate sequel to it in the German Reichstag.

Herrmann Goerring, special envoy of Hitler, arrived in Rome for a conference at the opportune time. Mussolini obtained his approval of the revised pact, then that of Henri De Jouvenel, French ambassador.

SALES TAX IS TURNED DOWN IN COMMITTEE

Income Tax Increase, and Additional Gasoline Tax Agreed Upon

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(UP)—The house ways and means committee today agreed to finance President Roosevelt's public works program with an income tax increase coupled with a dividend tax and an additional gasoline excise.

Chairman Doughton of the committee announced the decision. The income tax increase provides for a boost in the normal rates from four to six per cent and from eight to ten per cent. The gasoline tax will be three-fourths of one cent additional.

In addition, dividend income, now exempt, will be subject to the normal income tax rates. The increase in income tax rates approved by the committee would apply the six per cent rate to the first $4,000 of net income with the same exemptions allowed as under present law. The new 10 per cent rate on all above $4,000 would not affect exemptions.

Rejects Sales Tax

Prior to its adoption of the tax program, the committee rejected a flat proposal for a general manufacturers sales tax by what members described as "a close vote."

Chairman Doughton did not announce the numerical division.

This tax program is one of a group of four which was submitted to the committee last week by Budget Director Douglas on behalf of the administration. The program was adopted after a brief executive session by a vote of 13 to 9.

Under estimates prepared by the treasury department the income tax increase is expected to result in $45,000,000 additional; the gasoline tax will yield $92,000,000; and the dividend tax $38,000,000.

After securing an agreement on the tax program, the committee continued in executive session discussing the industrial control and public works section of the omnibus recovery bill.

To Report Today

The group was expected to report favorably on the entire measure some time today.

Breaks Window To Get Glass To End Life

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—(UP)—Crash! A brick, assertedly propelled by John Andrejovskiy, 27, hurtled through a drug store window.

"I wanted a piece of glass to commit suicide," Andrejovskiy told police who arrested him.

Andrejovskiy was given a special guard in the city jail to prevent any further asserted suicide attempts.

REVOLUTION IN HAVANA TAKES OVER 50 LIVES

Seven Bomb Explosions on Streets Cause Panic on Sunday Night

(Copyright 1933 by United Press)

HAVANA, May 22.—(UP)—Echoes of seven bomb explosions brought home to the capital today the reality of a revolution being fought without quarter in the provinces.

The bombs caused panic among Sunday night Havana crowds, though little damage resulted and there was no report of casualties.

The first bomb exploded at Santa Catalina and Felipe Posey streets, in the Vigora section. Others were reported at 17th and K streets in the Vedado section, near the home of General Alberto Herrera, chief of staff of the army; at 13th and B streets, also in the Vedado section; at three places in the Lawton section, and at Calzada Del Cerro and Primeltes streets in the Cerro section.

This correspondent checked revolutionary activities in the Santa Clara rebellion zone Sunday, and found about 600 rebels camping under arms. There were reported to be 1400 more in the Santa Clara and Anagay areas.

At least 50 men were killed in the week's fighting, about 40 of them rural guards or soldiers. Of 16 wounded soldiers taken to Santa Clara from Sancti Spiritus, 11 died.

J. W. HARRIMAN GIVEN WEEK'S POSTPONEMENT

Indicted New York Banker Resting Comfortably After Suicide Try

NEW YORK, May 22.—(UP)—His suicide attempt a failure, Joseph W. Harriman, former president of the closed Harriman National bank, today won a week's postponement of his trial on charges of falsifying the bank's books to cover deals in its own stock.

Harriman was resting comfortably at Nassau hospital, Mineola, where he was taken after he stabbed himself late Saturday. Because of his condition, and because United States Attorney George Z. Medalle was devoting all his time to the trial of another banker, Charles E. Mitchell, defense and prosecuting attorneys agreed on the week's delay. Had the agreement not been reached, Harriman's $25,000 bail would have been subject to forfeit unless he appeared in court today.

A surprising development was the statement of physicians at the hospital that Harriman's heart was in a "perfectly normal condition" for a man of his age, 68.

Harriman's own physicians had said he was suffering from a complication of heart diseases which might have a fatal effect in the event of sudden shock.

Harriman disappeared Friday from a New York nursing home where he had been under close observation. He was found late Saturday at Old Orchard Inn, Roslyn, L. I., where he once had a country home. Left along for a moment, he stabbed himself with a small knife.

LEGION HEAD RAPS GOVERNMENT PLANS

FRESNO, Calif., May 22.—(UP)—A scathing denunciation of federal government tax-exempt securities was made here last night by Louis Johnson, national commander of the American Legion, who pleaded for their revocation.

"If we are going to have honest government," Johnson said, "then let our government call in those tax-exempt securities so that the dollars of the rich man shall be taxed pro rata with the dollars of the poor man."

It is now known that 72 billion dollars, almost half the wealth of this country, is invested in tax exempt securities and it is notorious that some of the wealthy men of America have invested practically all, if not all, of their money in these securities.

HOOPER DENIES HE WILL REOPEN MINE

NEW YORK, May 22.—(UP)—Herbert Hoover has wired the United Press denying that he is interested in any way in the development of a mining project in the famed Comstock lode of Nevada.

Reports circulated recently connecting him with a project to develop mines on the lode, Mr. Hoover's telegram said, were being used for promotion purposes and he desired it known that he has "no such interest and will have none."

Political Situation Held Grave

Refugees from Surrounding County Bring Livestock Into City

PEIPING, May 22.—(UP)—Peiping resembled a beleaguered city today, with the eastern and northern gates barricaded and troops, many disorganized, crowding into the residential sections.

The political situation was grave, with Chinese and Japanese officials in serious dispute, and the Japanese in threatening mood.

An alleged insult to two high Japanese officials led to an apology, and Shochi Nakayama, Japanese charge d'affaires, announced he would demand an explanation from China for the presence of two divisions of Chinese troops in the city.

Chinese troops, unmindful of this situation, went to the top of the city walls insisting they would fire if Japanese troops advanced within range.

The Japanese troops closed in from north and east. Northward they were but 30 miles away, and on the other front they were but five miles the other side of Tungchow, barely 10 miles from the capital.

Thousands of refugees brought livestock into the city, and thronged the streets in disorder. The red swastika organization established seven additional refugee stations to care for them.

Two hundred United States Marines and a detachment of British troops, now stationed at a rifle range five miles east of the city have not been ordered to return.

SCOUTING FORCE OF NAVY TO GO NORTH

SAN PEDRO, Cal., May 22.—(UP)—The scouting force of the United States navy under command of vice Admiral Frank H. Brumby, appointed last Saturday, was to leave for San Francisco today enroute to Seattle.

This unit of the fleet planned to be absent from Los Angeles Harbor until July 23.

The itinerary of the force called for a halt at San Francisco tomorrow afternoon. The squadrons are due in Seattle June 3.

After visiting various Puget Sound ports during June, the force will start southward July 5 to engage in a battle problem with the northbound battle force off the Oregon-California coast between July 7 and 10. The maneuvers will be the first sea exercises of the entire United States fleet in northern waters.

CARBON MOUNTAIN ROCKED BY BLAST

DURANGO, Colo., May 22.—(UP)—Scores of persons, including forest rangers, cautiously examined Carbon mountain three miles south of here today after a violent explosion rocked the peak last night.

The foresters sought to prevent forest fire which might spread from three blazes near the top of the mountain. Whether the brilliant flames were of burning underbrush or of escaping burning gas could not be determined.

The explosion loosened large rocks and sent them bouncing down the mountainside, and was the most violent of several heard within the past two months. For sometime considerable movement has been noted at Carbon mountain, which is slipping slowly down into the Animas river valley.

PEACE ENVOY

Norman H. Davis, who called on all nations to disarm drastically and promised that the U. S. would consult and cooperate with other powers in the punishment of aggressors.

TERMS REPEAL AS LOAN SHARK TRANSACTION

F. Scott McBride Replies to Statements of Budget Director Douglas

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(UP)—Repeal of the 18th amendment in the hope that liquor revenue would reduce taxation would be the "most colossal loan shark transaction in American history," F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league said last night.

In one of the few statements issued since legalization of 3.2 per cent beer and liberalization of whiskey and wine prescriptions, the dry head accused the liquor traffic of taking advantage of the nation's economic distress to exploit the drink traffic.

It was the reply of prohibitionists to statements made by Budget Director Lewis W. Douglas and others before the house ways and means committee that new taxes would be imposed to finance the cost of the projected $3,300,000,000 public works program could be removed after repeal of the dry act.

President Roosevelt, in his public works industrial control bill message to congress, recommended that these taxes be lifted when the national income is increased by repeal and business recovery.

Witnesses before the committee testified that repeal of the dry law would yield the government $250,000,000 a year in revenue.

McBride charged that the liquor revenue estimates were based on the record of revenue returns from the old time liquor traffic in pre-prohibition years.

He said the former liquor revenues are being offered for the restoration of the "same old liquor traffic" and added:

"This means the saloon with its bums, its promotion of lawlessness, drunkenness, immorality, corruption and crime. The proposed liquor plan disregards the Democratic platform which promises 'no saloons,' 'temperance' and protection of dry territory."

He declared that if this country accepts "the specious offer of revenue receipts for the repeal of the 18th amendment, it will be the most colossal loan shark transaction in American history."

Economic considerations alone, he added, should condemn the proposed bargain with the brewers and distillers "to trade off the 18th amendment for liquor revenue."

"The retail expenditures for liquor," he said, "as a matter of statistical fact, employ far fewer workers, require the purchase of far less raw material and the investment of far less capital, than other commodities of equal retail value, which liquor consumption would displace."

NORMAN DAVIS CALLS ON ALL NATIONS OF WORLD FOR DRASTIC ARMS CUT

Geneva Conference Informed Length U. S. Will Go In Guaranteeing Security Against Aggressor

ISOLATION PERIOD IS ENDED

GENEVA, May 22.—(UP)—The United States called on all nations today to disarm drastically, and offered to consult and co-operate with other powers in the punishment of aggressors.

The offer was regarded here as marking the end of America's traditional policy of isolation.

President Roosevelt, boldly taking leadership of the world's efforts for peace, even proposed to abandon his nation's cherished neutrality in event peace is threatened, and virtually offered to scrap the bulk of the powerful American navy, army and military air force, if other nations will do the same.

The president's dramatic and sweeping proposals were presented to the general commission of the World Armaments Conference by Norman H. Davis, his special ambassador to Europe.

Warning that another war threatens if armament races are not stopped, Davis called on the nations for immediate action, and boldly proposed to reduce all armaments "to the basis of a domestic police force."

To Cooperate
Outlining his country's willingness to cooperate towards security against an aggressor, Davis said:

"In particular, we are willing to consult the other states in case of a threat to peace with a view to averting conflict."

"Further than that, in the event that the states, in conference, determine that a state has been guilty of a breach of the peace in violation of its international obligations and take measures against the violator, then, if we concur in the judgment rendered as to the responsibility and guilty party, we will refrain from any action tending to defeat such collective effort which these states may thus take to restore peace."

Davis' speech was regarded as perhaps the most significant yet made in the years of disarmament deliberations at Geneva. Sir John Simon and Joseph Paul-Boncour, British and French foreign ministers, followed the speech line by line from written copies.

KIDNAPING ATTEMPT IN DENVER FOILED

DENVER, May 22.—(UP)—A tall dark woman with long black hair and a rasping voice was sought by police here today as the person who attempted to kidnap an 8-year-old girl, only to be frightened away by the screams of the girl's brother, 14.

According to the story told by Elwood O'Dell, the brother, and substantiated by neighbors, a weird looking woman, naked to the waist, crept into the O'Dell home early yesterday, pulled Betty O'Dell, eight, out of bed and fled with the frightened child into the back yard where a nude man stood waiting.

Elwood followed them and screamed. Neighbors heard his screams and called police. The apparently crazy woman was "kidnapers" fled.

Proving That The "Female of The Species--"

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—Herbert's, famous bachelor restaurant here, was closed for repairs today following a fire that broke out within 24 hours after Al Herbert, proprietor, had decided to lift the historic ban on women and make the place "co-educational."

A number of women were in the establishment when the blaze broke out in an air well. Damage was estimated at $7000.

Also saw beautiful ceremony by Gold Star Mothers at Unknown Soldier's grave. This is the most beautiful city in the world. Roosevelt is just about through with Congress so you can look for 'em back home pretty soon. This is one time that a Senator can come home without a police escort for protection. ## NORMAN DAVIS OUTLINES U. S. STAND ON ARMS

Emphasizes Speed
Davis emphasized the need for speed to guard peace and aid economic recovery.

It was considered significant that the speech bore out the German thesis that the other powers are bound by the peace treaties to disarm practically to Germany's level and should do so.

Davis warned solemnly against rearmament, however, and reiterated President Roosevelt's statement in his recent peace message that a recalcitrant nation would be held guilty by world opinion.

"If at this decisive point," he said, "any nation should fail to give conclusive evidence of its pacific intentions and insist upon the right to rearm, even though the other powers take effective and substantial steps toward disarmament, then the burden of responsibility for the failure of the disarmament conference, with the incalculable consequences of such a failure, would rest on the shoulders of that nation."

"The problems with which we are faced can not be solved if one nation insists on rearming while the others disarm. The result inevitably would be another race in armaments."

COMMUNISM IS ATTACKED BY LEGION HEAD

That the American Legion is America's best insurance policy against communism was stated by Louis Johnson, national commander of the Legion, speaking to a capacity audience at the Long Beach Municipal auditorium Saturday evening. Many Orange County Legionnaires were among those present.

Commander Johnson also pledged the Legion to keep the faith with the disabled veterans in working towards a revision of the recent drastic rulings regarding compensation and hospitalization and to continue the fight for adequate national defenses.

Speaking of communism, the speaker played it as a cancerous growth and stated that the American Legion and communism have nothing in common. The Legion he said will oppose recognition of Russia as long as their policy of propaganda against our governmental institutions is continued. The sanctity of the government of this country, he declared, is more important than trade with Russia.

The national commander told of conferences which he had held with President Roosevelt regarding the projected cuts in disabled veterans' compensation and hospitalization. He brought his audience the cheering news that the president has now ordered a much more liberal application of economy measures as they effect the service connected cases. Presumptive cases, he said, will benefit largely by the new deal.

In the matter of national defenses, the speaker said, that the American Legion stood for an American Navy "second to none." The commander also deplored economy proposals that would cut $90,000,000 from army appropriations for next year. Preparedness, he declared, is the best insurance of the lasting peace which is the hope of the American Legion.

SEVEN ARRESTED ON DRUNK COUNTS

Seven persons were lodged in the county jail on liquor charges over the week end.

E. Cardiel, 22, of Tustin, was arrested on a drunk charge at a dance in the K. of P. hall by Santa Ana officers Saturday night. He was lodged in the county jail.

Jesus Somell, 32, Pomona, was booked by Placentia officers on a charge of possession of liquor.

Four persons were arrested at the county park yesterday on drunk charges, including John Canonica, 26, San Pedro sailor, Albert N. Richeson, 23, Mrs. Richeson, 20, and William A. Davidson, 23, of Long Beach.

FORMER SANTA ANA STUDENT KILLED AT L. A.

Lyle William Eder, 18, U. S. C. student who was shot to death in a spectacular gun battle in front of the Los Angeles Athletic club late last night, formerly lived in Santa Ana and has relatives here, it was learned today.

The youth, who attended high school in Santa Ana and who moved to Los Angeles with his mother, Mrs. Constance L. O'Neill, 1551 Murray drive, three years ago, was a student in U. S. C. medical college.

The slain youth is survived by his grandfather, Frank Blencoe, who operates a cigar stand on West Fourth street, his uncle, Walter L. "Bud" Blencoe, who is the proprietor of a tire shop at First and Main streets, and a cousin, Mrs. Verna Gallagher, 716 Kilson drive, all of Santa Ana.

With a girl companion, Miss Betty Louise Forbes, the dead youth was riding home from a theater when an armed man jumped onto the running board as Eder was making a left turn and thrust a gun into his body.

The youth grappled with the gunman and battled his way out of the car and the fight continued in the center of the street. The gun held by the bandit, Russell Courtney, 25, barked and the bullet pierced Eder's body. He continued to fight and took the weapon away from the bandit and the bandit dropped to the ground, mortally wounded as Eder dropped to the pavement, dead.

EUGENE, Ore., May 22.—(UP)—A maximum penalty of life imprisonment today faced Llewellyn A. Banks, former millionaire Medford newspaper editor and orchardist, who was convicted by a jury of second degree murder in the death of Constable George Prescott.

The jury, returning a verdict after 18 hours of deliberation, acquitted Banks' wife, accused jointly with him of first degree murder charges. Banks' attorneys gave notice of appeal.

Banks was accused of shooting Prescott when the latter came to his home to serve a warrant, charging him with stealing election ballots. Banks pleaded temporary insanity.

MUSICAL PLAY TO BE GIVEN BY STUDENTS

What promises to be a real treat in way of entertainment at tomorrow night's meeting of the Willard Junior High school P. T. A. is the presentation of a musical skit, programmed by Miss Helen Glancy, music teacher at Willard, for the two glee clubs.

Assisting in work preparatory to staging the play, featuring a number of well known ballads, with "An Old Fashioned Garden" as the theme song, have been Miss Marian K. Libby and Miss Esther Jean Davis, teachers co-operating with Miss Glancy, the latter in charge of production arrangements.

The scenery for the skit, portraying a typical Colonial garden, was built by the students, who also will present the various musical numbers on the program.

STORY OF BOMBING SCOUTED BY MOONEY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—(UP)—A bizarre story of a former private detective that two Mexicans deposited the bomb that killed 16 persons in the 1916 Preparedness day parade was viewed skeptically today by Tom Mooney, awaiting a new trial in the case for which he is serving life imprisonment.

John P. Emerson, who has weaved in and out of the case for years, said the men were agents of the late Martin Swanson, power company detective, who plotted to "get" Mooney by "planting" the explosive in Mooney's labor headquarters and then "discovering" it. The plot went awry, Emerson charged, when the agents became panic stricken and dropped it at Market and Steuart streets before they had reached their destination.

AMERICAN JEWS TO RAISE $1,000,000

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(UP)—American Jews today set out to raise a $1,000,000 fund to be used to arouse public opinion for protection of the rights of their race in Germany and other parts of the world.

Raising of the fund was agreed upon at an extraordinary session of the American Jewish congress called to determine means of combating alleged persecutions of Jews by the Hitler regime. Some $68,000 was subscribed at the outset.

The resolution creating the fund, offered by Justice Mitchell May of the New York Supreme court, declared "the masters of Germany have set up an international organization seeking to infect every nation of the world with the virus of anti-semitism, the avowed purpose of which is a war of extermination against the Jews."

VETERANS DENIED MEALS AND BEDS

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(UP)—Free meals and free beds from the government were ordered ended today for all bonus marchers who did not enlist for $1 a day jobs in President Roosevelt's reforestation army.

TERMS REPEAL AS CAN SHARK TRANSACTION IN COMMITTEE

Three former public officials and two metropolitan newspapers were charged with fomenting public opinion against the 18th amendment in a speech here Sunday by Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, south.

Addressing a tri-county convention of dries, Cannon said the four major reasons why prohibition has become unpopular with many people were Alfred E. Smith, former President Hoover, Andrew Mellon and newspapers in metropolitan areas.

He characterized Al Smith as the leader of the repeal movement. Andrew Mellon was called "a financier not interested in prohibition who appointed enforcement officers who drank themselves."

Former President Hoover was blamed by Cannon for failure to obtain adequate enforcement funds. Cannon made public for the first time a resolution passed in New York by the executive committee of the federal council of Christian churches.

The resolution, he said, condemned President Roosevelt for a recent statement in which the chief executive "emphasized that repeal of the 18th amendment would yield enough revenue to eliminate the temporary re-employment taxes."

PLAN HEARINGS ON COUNTY WATER BILL

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 22.—(UP)—Opposition to the bill, passed by the legislature, creating the Orange county water district, was to be aired late today at a hearing before Governor Rolph.

Opponents of the measure will request that the bill be vetoed, the governor said. The measure was introduced by Senator Nelson Edwards and passed through the legislature during the closing days with little opposition.

Later in the day, the governor's office announced the hearing would not be held today.

A definite date will be set later. The measure has not yet been received by the governor's office.

Economy Menu to Be Class Subject

Appetizing economy dinners that would tempt Gandhi to break his fast, featuring bargain roast, spiced red cabbage, water cress, cucumber and radish salad, tomato French dressing, corn sticks, applelicious and Luxor cake, are among recipes to be discussed at tomorrow's session of the cooking school of the Southern Orange County Gas company, 207 West Second street, Santa Ana, according to a program announcement by Margaret Stroum, director of the school.

SALES TAX IS TURNED DOWN IN COMMITTEE

Also considering the bill, heard Senator Wagner, Dem., N. Y., support it as a measure which "provides the chart and compass for a program of recovery."

Meanwhile, 30 representatives of the clothing industry met here to work out regulations governing wages, hours of work and trade practices in connection with the industrial control provisions of the same bill.

Senators Gore and King protested that the program might stifle private enterprise but Wagner replied that it relies "primarily on spontaneous action" and said he did not believe the power to enforce fair trade practices would be required in many cases.

"Is this bill drafted on the theory of Mussolini or of the German cartel system?" asked Senator King, Dem., Utah.

"Not at all," Wagner replied. "We are not seeking to destroy commerce but to renationalize commerce. The bill provides a nationally planned economy, without which in my opinion we cannot recover."

connection with the American program of military disarmament. Hull advocated a corresponding policy of economic peace.

Although he said he never had been over optimistic about the possibilities of international conferences, having particular reference to the coming world economic conference, he said the United States was prepared to lay down a fundamental program to bring peace and prosperity to this and other countries. ## INDIVIDUAL BALLOTS NEEDED BY ORANGE COUNTY CITIES IN SPECIAL ELECTION ON JUNE 27

Santa Ana and other Orange county cities planning to incorporate their municipal votes on the alcoholic beer problem with the special state election for June 27 probably will have to have individual ballots printed.

On a ruling received this morning from the office of the state's attorney general, County Clerk J. M. Backs was informed that the elections can be consolidated and the ballots may be counted by the same election board. The ballots, however, must be separate from those on which the state and county propositions are submitted and must be cast in a separate ballot box.

Following the ruling from the attorney general, County Clerk Backs conferred with Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton and said following the conference that Menton probably will advise the board of the state ruling and will have that body notify the city of Santa Ana.

The question was brought up through interpretation of the election law relative to absent voter ballots. The law regarding absent voter ballots sets forth that voters are entitled to the absent voter ballot in special state and county elections but not in special municipal elections.

The city of Santa Ana had petitioned and been granted permission by the supervisors to consolidate the city with the special state and county election. It had been planned to print the city proposition on the same ballot with the county and state propositions and pay any additional cost because of the consolidation.

Backs pointed out this morning that in spite of the attorney general's ruling which will force the city to pay for the printing of a separate ballot and installation of separate ballot boxes for the city's vote, considerable money will be saved through use of the same election board.

It is understood that the cities of Fullerton and Orange and probably La Habra, will have representatives at the meeting of the board of supervisors tomorrow requesting permission to consolidate their special city elections on the alcoholic beer question with the state and county vote.

New Spraying Towers

Now Ready for Service

Our first walnut spraying tower has been completed and we are now building others which will soon be available.

Our rigs contain improvements over those recently demonstrated here by the horticultural commission. From a flat position they are raised with a take-off from the motor to extend any height desired up to 28 feet.

The tops of your walnut trees can now be sprayed more efficiently to assure better quality nuts.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON

By Paul Mallen

SOVIETS

Our delegates to the London conference have been told confidentially to treat the Russians just as if they weren't Red. We are to make no point of the fact that diplomatic relations will not be established by the time the conference sits down.

This order has caused some of the state department officials to busy about the way former State Secretary Stimson put the Russians in what he thought was their place at Geneva.

The Soviet delegate M. Litvinoff sent word to Stimson that he would like to call Stimson back word that if Litvinoff wanted to talk to him it would have to be done through third parties. Thereafter M. Radick and Hugh Gibson did all the talking for Stimson and Litvinoff.

One day Premier MacDonald was walking in Geneva with the wife of a prominent American official. He met Litvinoff and stopped to chat. The lady walked on.

SWEETS

The sugar lobbyists have slipped the word around among themselves that the man to see in the administration on that subject is a Charles W. Taussig.

He does not hold a government job, but apparently has more influence than if he did. At least he maintains the appearance of influence and gets credit for it whether he has any or not. His latest acquisition is a desk in the office of Prof. Moley. Everyone knows that means something because Moley sits at the right hand of the source of all power.

Taussig's headquarters are a suite in the most expensive hotel in town. Cabinet members have been known to drop in there for lunch. He is young (about 35), wealthy and president of the American Molasses company, a Cuban concern.

PAYOFFS

Speaker Rainey is paying off in a nice way some of the boys who helped elect him speaker.

He lets their pet resolutions and bills come before the House when there is not a chance in a thousand of getting the house to pass them. The boys know it but they like the publicity. It helps them back home.

That harmless system of paying political debts appears to have been followed on the Stovick resolution to investigate the motion picture industry and the Celler-Sabath resolution to investigate bankruptcies.

REPRIEVE

The boys in charge have just about decided to do nothing about Prohibition Director Dalrymple. They have quietly put away their guns and are now patting him on the back.

The explanation privately made is that the department of justice investigation of the New Jersey beer situation profited the investigators little. They whisper that most of the permits were issued before he took office. The department showed such confidence in him that recently it dispatched him to Philadelphia to conduct the Pennington inquiry there.

Perhaps human sympathy has a lot to do with the change of front. He has a short life job. As soon as repeal is realized his task will be over, if it is not over already.

NON-POLITICAL

Instead of quelling the Marylanders the appointment of Dean Acheson as assistant treasury secretary has riled them. It develops his only political qualifications for the post are that he was precinct leader in the district where he has a summer home. Under the classification every ward boss figures he rates at least a justiceship on the supreme court.

The truth is that Budget Director Douglas again picked Acheson without consulting the politicians.

CONSERVATION

Apparently Secretary Ickes intends to make it the kind of a department it was in Pinchot-Ballinger days. His right hand men is a long-time Pinchot associate, Harry Slattery. Ickes is even trying to find a place for the man who turned up the Ballinger scandal, Louis R. Glavis.

That can mean only one thing—a rough ride for those who live off the public domain.

Tiffs with the public utilities, oil, coal or lumber people will not long be delayed. The conservationists are in the saddle again.

JOHNSON

It is too early to say so definitely yet but there is every reason to believe Senator Hiram Johnson will be offered the supreme court vacancy. He rates the post and probably will take it. The switch may come before the fall term of court whenever Justice Van Devanter retires.

MELLON

Insiders will be surprised if the Mellon income tax investigation produces a court case against the former treasury secretary.

The inquiry was undertaken largely because false stories against Mellon have gone all over the country by word of mouth. They may stumble on something important but they had nothing when they started.

LONDON

Mr. Roosevelt has definitely tossed out the idea that he might go to London. He wisely spoke his piece here.

The reasons for that are obvious. He could not give much more impetus toward the success of the conference than he already has. Also it would be a dangerous ground for a domestic political standpoint.

The benefits to be gained are small and the dangers great.

DEBTS

If Britain has made up her mind what to do about her June 15 war debt payment, our officials are not aware of it.

She would like to default but there is the old question of British pride. She has always paid her debts even when they are burdensome.

Our people fear France will continue to default. The other nations will be inclined to follow the leadership of Britain. If she pays, they will pay.

NOTES

Harry Slattery is not widely known outside of Washington but here he has been perhaps the foremost backstage Liberal.

Senators Norris, Borah et al gave him a testimonial dinner some months ago in honor of his long years of quiet service. Senators were surprised to hear the Acheson law firm represented the Soviet Union. Some of them were prepared to contest the nomination because his firm also acted for J. P. Morgan. Vice President Garner has had no legal experience but he handled the Loudonback impeachment case with perfect court demeanor.

The answer to that is he studied up on procedure especially for the trial. Senate Leader Robinson is getting closer to Mr. Roosevelt every day. The president asked him to stay behind for a tete-a-tete after the other congressional conferees left recently. Some of the New York bankers have sent men down here recently to see that no one uses a pulmotor on the Glass banking bill.

NEW YORK

By James McMullen

EMPERORS

Insiders will tell you to keep your eye on the Du Ponts as America's forthcoming industrial emperors. They may achieve an importance in that field rivalled only by the fading domination of the Morgans in financial matters.

They are paying special attention to industrial developments which have great promise for the future. They have already strengthened their position in motors and aviation enormously and are in excellent shape to take advantage of growing markets for rayon and cellophane. They will be in on air-conditioning through General Motors. It is also reported that their laboratories have been active in creating new chemical products to be introduced when the market is ripe. There are some 128 distinct fields of industry in which the Du Ponts are active.

AVIATION

The Du Pont interest in aviation is not confined to their indirect participation in North American aviation through General Motors. There is reason to believe that control of United Aircraft is gradually passing into their hands.

United Aircraft in turn controls United Air Transport so that the Du Pont General Motors combination would dominate the two most important transcontinental routes through the most populous territory. That implies a very tough hurdle for E. L. Cope in his air rivalry with General Motors.

The depression has had remarkably little effect on the development of aviation. There are three times as many commercial planes in service now as there were in 1931.

WRITE-OFF

General Motors is considering a drastic write-off of obsolete plants. This will probably have an adverse effect on their second quarter statement but observers agree that the policy is healthy.

JOBS

Reports of current gains in employment and wages should not be taken too seriously. These gains do not offset as yet continuing unpublicized losses. But the best authorities are hopeful of a real turn before the end of the year.

COTTON

Textile buying has been definitely stimulated by the proposal for 40-hour shifts with an 80-hour week among cotton goods manufacturers. A number of strong mills are now operating on an average of 120 hours a week or more. Their cut-down would give some of the little fellows a chance to get going again.

UTILITIES

The transfer of the electrical consumption tax from consumer to producer will bear heaviest on the holding companies because of the reduction in net earnings of their subsidiaries.

If the full three per cent is transferred it is estimated that Consolidated Gas would have to pay $3,228,000 more in taxes—or about 28 cents a share. Some of the other large utilities' contributions would be United Gas Improvement with $1,200,000, Commonwealth and Southern with $1,165,000, Commonwealth Edison of Chicago with $1,000,000 and American Power and Light with $1,000,000. Among the important companies, Public Service of Northern Illinois would be the largest contributor on a stock basis—around $1.40 a share.

Associated Gas and Electric would find the interest on their convertible bonds just about cut in half. This interest was barely earned last year.

The tax would effect preferred dividends for American Power and Light and Electric Power and Light (subsidiaries of Electric Bond and Share). In most cases the preferred dividend would be immune.

Utility interests see one silver lining on the cloud. They hope to use the tax as an effective argument to ward off rate reduction.

ROOSEVELT

There will be no writing done by the president outside of news channels during his administration.

It is Mr. Roosevelt's present determination that whatever he has to say shall be put forth through official channels while he remains in office. Extraordinary offers for special articles and for a book to follow "Looking Forward" have been declined. Apart from the question of time the decision represents considerations of national and international policy for the nation of which he is the head.

Even those who would have profited had the decision been otherwise support it warmly in private.

STRAUS

The Manufacturers' Trust company of New York now owns S. W. Straus and company of California. The stock in the California corporation was pledged with the bank for a loan to S. W. Straus of Delaware, a holding corporation. The Delaware company is now in receivership and the bank has taken over the Pacific coast company.

The Manufacturers' is not keen on operating the business and would like very much to find a buyer. So far it has made no luck. If it has to keep the business it will change the name.

WOODIN

So far Wall streeters have found Treasury Secretary Woodin easy to deal with. They have been able to sell him several ideas and hope they can maintain the contact on as harmonious a footing as they have to date.

FINANCES

No publicity was given to the dinner tendered to Dr. Schacht in New York the day before he sailed. David Sarnoff took an active interest in arranging the affair. Judge Joseph Proskauer and Albert Lasker had a long and earnest talk with Schacht on the Jewish question. The German envoy appeared conciliatory and was in a decidedly serious mood when he left.

COMMUNISM

Despite the most energetic efforts the Nazis have not succeeded in stamping out Communist activities in Germany. Their paper, The Red Feather, is being printed secretly and reaches thousands through subterranean channels. For the last three weeks a number of communist "cells" have been engaged in active work and the political police, according to reports to their New York comrades, managed to elude the political police, according to reports to their New York comrades.

SOVIETS

Little attention is paid by Russian newspapers to Japanese war possibilities. Internal questions make the news. Half pages are given to German developments.

Last year part of the Five Year Plan was sacrificed to stepping up war industries. In December Stalin announced that defence measures were adequate and further sacrifices would be unnecessary. Food production then became the first consideration. Soviet experts hold firm belief in Japan's permanent plan to swallow half Asia will be pursued unhesitatingly. Hence her military will take easiest and most profitable regions first. The chance to gobble North China is unprecedented. The armies are negligible and the industrial population on well-cultivated land can produce an immediate profit. The Soviet East is unsettled by Japanese and would require tremendous investment for colonization. Japan will therefore do no more than use the Chinese Eastern railway question to test Soviet morals but not to the point of war.

The Soviet eastern policy is believed in Russia to be identical with that of the United States. Copyright, 1933, McClure Newspaper Syn.

PAIR PARDONED ON RUM COUNTS BACK IN JAIL

Pardoned by Governor Rolph but a short time ago for violation of the Wright act, two alleged bootleggers were back in the county jail again today, charged with violation of city liquor laws.

Santa Ana police officers, armed with a search warrant, swooped down on the home of Joseph H. Patterson, 30, at 1033 West Myrtle street at 7:45 o'clock Saturday night and found, according to reports, three pints of whiskey and a gallon and a half of alcohol in a bathroom.

Patterson was lodged in the county jail where he was booked on a charge of violating Ordinance 682, Santa Ana liquor ordinance.

Arrest Two Others
According to a story told by officers, as the raid was being conducted, Elmer Patterson, 25, of the same address, drove up to the house with Olen Cook, 22, 1321 Lemon street, Long Beach, in the car.

A search of the car revealed that there were four and a half gallons of whiskey, 21 pints of whiskey and a half gallon of alcohol in the car. Elmer Patterson was booked on charges of possession and transportation of liquor and was lodged in the county jail. Cook was charged with possession.

Shortly before the raid on Myrtle street, the same squad of officers raided the home of Vernon M. Pee, 28, at 931 West Chestnut street, where it was reported they found 22 pints of liquor.

Demand Jury Trial
Appearing before Judge J. G. Mitchell in the police court this morning, Pee pleaded not guilty to the charge and demanded a jury trial, the date of which was set for June 6 at 10 a. m.

Both Joseph and Elmer Patterson asked for time, until tomorrow, to enter pleas, and Judge Mitchell granted the requests. Cook pleaded not guilty and the case was dismissed upon motion of City Attorney Clyde Downing.

Both Joseph Patterson and Pee have been in the county jail before on liquor charges. Patterson was out on bail on November 18 on a possession charge when Governor Rolph pardoned him for violation of the Wright act. Patterson was considering an appeal from a $500 fine or 250 day jail sentence when he was pardoned, according to records. Pee was pardoned by Governor Rolph on December 21, 1932, after having started to serve a 250 day jail sentence for sale of intoxicating liquor on November 15 of the same year, records show.

NATIVE DAUGHTER IS CALLED SUNDAY

Mrs. Mattie H. Krebs, 58, a native daughter of Orange county, died yesterday at the home of her son, Edward H. Krebs, Doheny Park. She had been a resident of the beach city for the past 22 years.

Mrs. Krebs was born in Anaheim and had lived in Orange county all her life. She was the widow of E. H. Krebs who died several years ago. Surviving her are the son with whom she made her home; two daughters, Mrs. W. Jackman and Mrs. J. Zimmerman; and two foster children, Josephine Serry and Alvin Krebs, all of Doheny Park.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow from the Winbigler Funeral home, 609 North Main street, with interment in Fairhaven cemetery.

CHARGES ALCOHOL SPONSORED TO PERMIT EXPLOITATION, MAKE GREED AND GRAFT SAFE

Declaring that alcoholic beverages are being sponsored to numb the sensibilities of men, to make impossible their keen sense of discrimination, to produce a contentment without justice, to allow the few to exploit the many and to make greed and graft safe, Dr. George A. Warner spoke at the First M. E. church yesterday morning on the subject "Beer Consciousness Produces What?"

The sermon was based on the text "Do not be carried away by strange and diverse teachings" (Heb. 13:19).

The speaker raised questions pertinent to the issue involved. First, Will beer produce the anticipated revenue? "The highest revenue ever paid by the liquor traffic, with an added war time tax, was $400,000,000," he said. "The present administration hopes to raise much less than that. The latest news reports anticipate 50 million dollars shortage on their expectancy."

"Charging alcohol with one-quarter of the accidents, which all economists agree is a very conservative figure, the public has to pay $500,000,000 as a toll. Add to this the fact that for every $1,000,000 invested the liquor traffic uses only $57,000 of raw materials; other manufacturers for like investment buy $287,000 worth; for the same amount invested in beer and wool, beer employs 39,000 workers, wool 264,000. Beer at the pinnacle of its distribution shows a bad financial sheet.

"Prohibition causes no accidents, uses the maximum of raw materials for money invested, employs larger numbers of men in industrial pursuits and through its enforcement during nine years netted the government in fines, confiscations, etc., $247,323,307. (Cost of nine years enforcement $318,179,485; fines, confiscations, etc., $460,502,792). Drinking ourselves back to prosperity is like a man buried face downward digging himself out of the grave.

"These are just cold financial facts. They do not take the price of the destroyed virtue, the corrupted politics, the underfed children, the prostituted genius or the many dead into the account.

Relief Question
"Second, Will beer add to relief? The U. S. government figures, at the peak year before prohibition, shows that a small fraction of one per cent of oats was thus consumed; less than one per cent of wheat; slightly over one per cent of corn; 32 per cent of barley. But what about other products? Milk consumption increased 212.3 pounds annually for every man, woman, and child in the U. S. under prohibition; for ice cream the number of employees increased 95 per cent, the production output 281 per cent; soft drink industries employed 114 per cent more men, and produced 307 per cent increased business.

"To be informed may we note that savings deposits have increased three times since 1913; memberships in building and loan associations has increased from 4 to 11 millions since 1913; life inlife blood from their veins and produce a pernicious anemia for which there is no human cure. This is not the pathway to abundant living; rather it is the open roadway to something worse than death.

"Santa Ana is to be congratulated that The Register has not sold out to this gang. There is great financial loss to the publisher. There is, we hope, more than compensation in the support of the best citizenry and the approval of a conscience void of offense. We wish Mr. Burke and The Register God speed and pledge all of our cooperative strength to the common cause."

EIGHTH GRADE IN PLAY NEXT FRIDAY

OCEANVIEW, May 22.—The eighth grade play for Oceanview school graduates is scheduled for the first week in June. Rehearsals are being held.

The play entitled, "Elmer," has a cast of seven characters with the lead taken by Dick Turner as "Elmer." Other class members taking character parts are as follows: Roberta Ingle, Susan Collier; Dorothy Hell, Jeanie Collier, a twin of "Janie Collier," which part is taken by Lily Sizer; George Simmons, Herbert Brown; Dewitt Easterly, Russell Jameson. The part of the mother, Mrs. Collier, will be taken either by Velda Walker or Olive Meredith, both of whom are being coached for the part.

The vaudelectorian and salutorian have not yet been determined for the class but examinations will soon be under way. Twenty-one pupils are enrolled in the 1933 commencement class, the class roll being as follows: Louise Curry, Roberta Ingle, Kyoko Furuta, Dorothy Hell, Ruth Kikuchi, Guenevere McMillan, Olive Meredith, Ena Preston, Zeldna Popnoe, Lillian Sizer, Mary Helen Treece, Velda Walker, Helen West, Dewitt Easterly, Desire Goubert, Cico Guerrero, Lee Hernandez, Newell Hunnicut, George Simmons, Jim Sokkomoto and Dick Turner.

In auctioning golf handicaps in England in the future, age will be considered. "Account should be taken of a player's age and of other circumstances which may affect his general play," the British Golfing Union has stated.

Because 90 per cent of the volume and 55 per cent of the alcoholic content of liquors, sold prior to prohibition were in beer, Greed and the satisfying of a created appetite is the answer. Beer is the segment of the liquor traffic that will show the biggest profits."

"College and university attendance has increased 96 per cent under prohibition. Social sympathy has developed to an alarming degree. The public is demanding a new deal—a new game in which dwelleth righteousness. There is a loud clamor for the redistribution of wealth. Religion is gradually losing its opiate properties. Something must be done to numb the sensibilities of men, to debase their social aspirations, to befog their possibility of understanding, to make impossible their keen sense of discrimination, to produce a contentment without justice, to allow the few to exploit the many, to prevent a change in the revenue regulations so that the higher brackets of income may be compelled to carry their just proportion of the national and state budgets, to make graft and greed safe. ## EFFECT OF ALCOHOL ON HUMAN SYSTEM OUTLINED IN ADDRESS BEFORE MEMBERS C. E. SOCIETY

FULLERTON, May 22.—Indicating a spirit of intense educational policy, and of determination to place facts in the hands of people before election on June 27, when Fullerton people will be asked to adopt an ordinance making Fullerton "wet," Dr. C. F. W. Kohlenberger brought a message from two books written to tell facts about drinking and drunkards, at the adult Christian Endeavor meeting at the Presbyterian church yesterday.

Following his talk, several persons told their experiences with drunken drivers, recent happenings, and giving the short talks were Miss Faustina Nanno, president of Northern Orange County Y. W. C. A.; Dr. Kohlenberger and Miss Nellie Ramsey, Charles Clark, who was recently injured severely in an automobile crash, was unable to appear.

The pastor of the church, the Rev. Graham C. Hunter, talked on "Things Which Stand in the Way of World Peace, and the Work of the Church for Peace" as the evening address.

Dr. Kohlenberger brought a message from the new book, "Alcohol and Man," edited by Haven Emerson, M. D., of the Institute of Public Health, Columbia university, and as the particular message of the evening brought part of the chapter on "Alcohol as a Psychiatric Problem," written by Adolf Meyer, M. D., psychiatrist in Chief of the John Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, Md.

He also brought a short article from a recent medical publication, "Diseases of the Nervous System," written by Dr. William White, superintendent of Elizabeth hospital, Washington, D. C., and Smith Ely Jelliffe, professor of phychiatry, Fordham university, N. Y.

The last book announces that "It is generally conceded that alcohol is a powerful poison, and as such if taken in large quantities or over a long period of time, produces serious damage to the individual. There is unfortunately associated with this view the opposite view that alcohol is a valuable medicine in certain conditions, particularly that it is a valuable stimulant, while among certain peoples it is generally accepted as an essential article of daily diet."

"As a matter of fact, the toxic properties of alcohol far out-

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers, and may not be the opinions of The Register.

To The Santa Ana Register:

For the past four years the world has anxiously awaited the coming of some seer who would tell us the cause of our troubles. At last the beer interests are imparting the information. It is all because of the lack of beer. If the proposed "Beer Ordinance" for Fullerton is enacted then our troubles will cease. The sorrows of depression and unemployment will end.

Beer will remove the present hindrance to new business. Beer will place Fullerton squarely behind the national program for overcoming the depression.

Beer will do away with the depression for our merchants. Their volume of trade will increase. Local trade advantages will enlarge. Property values will increase and taxation be cut down, when we get beer.

Beer will insure new business enterprises springing up. Beer will promote prosperity and give common sense to all.

All these things will become fact, we are told, when beer comes to Fullerton. "What fools we mortals be."

Contrawise, the coming of beer will produce just the opposite of these contentions of the wets. Beer will promote poverty. It will deprive little children of bread and milk, of shoes and clothing.

Beer will make the people's suffering more intense.

The dispensing places of beer will be the rendezvous of thugs, and the breeding places of crime. Beer will promote felony, suffering and want.

Beer will challenge the sanctity of the home with its beauty and lofty aspirations.

Beer is the harbinger of debauchery.

PASTOR REVEALS
NEEDS OF WORLD

Unhappily is the disturbing condition that now prevails. Instead of religion, according to the Rev. Ida L. Ewing, pastor of the Spiritual Science Church of Santa Ana, in a sermon delivered yesterday in the Modern Woodmen of America hall, she said in part that unless the people, as a nation, become rational, thankful and appreciative, activities will become dormant and conditions will become so pressing and hurtful that a panic-stricken nation will become benumbed and violent.

Thankfulness and moral reasoning must be recognized by the people as the bondage of sin and corruption will mean rioting. She advised the people to get back to God and Godliness and serve God and man morally, mentally and spiritually.

Christian Science

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the lesson sermon yesterday at the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist. The Golden Text was from Paul's letter to the Romans: "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

One of the Bible selections in the lesson sermon presented the verses from John: "These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee; as thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."

A passage from "Science and Health" by Mary Baker Eddy, included the statements: "Jesus gave the true idea of being, which results in infinite blessings to mortals. . . . When spiritual being is understood in all its perfection, continuity, and might, then shall man be found in God's image."

"PREPARE TO MEET THY GOD"
SERMON THEME

Couched in a group of touching illustrations of the tender love of a heavenly Father, Evangelist B. R. Spear last night, at the Seventh Day Adventist church presented the message, "Prepare to Meet Thy God." The pastor said in part:

"An intensely fervid spirit of preparation pervades every phase of life. Nations, peoples, and individuals are preparing for something whether good or evil. The Bible declares that God has a preparation day. In this day of His preparation all things are fuller. His word of preparing is filling His world of preparing to fill for it. In the march of current event all may see prophecy fulfilled. No one will have an excuse though they spurn the Bible. Its tragic fulfillment will yet convince many a skeptic."

"The prophet Joel states that the day of preparation will find the nations preparing for war. The Book Revelation announces that the present problems of the Near East will prepare the way for the kings of the east to enter the battle of Armageddon, and Jesus warns that God has prepared fire for the wicked."

"But above all this yet in the midst of it," continued the speaker, "God is sending a preparatory message 'To make ready a people prepared for the Lord.' When He comes they will say 'Lo, this is our God, we have waited for Him.'"

"No earthly powers can assist you in this preparation," was the pastor's emphatic declaration, "God alone can do it, but you must choose to let Him, by a surrender of self and a putting away of sin. Says the prophet, 'If ye do return unto the Lord with all your heart, then put away the strange gods; prepare your hearts unto the Lord and serve Him only; and He will deliver you.'"

Mr. Spear then briefly sketched

WORLD IS SUFFERING FROM OVER-DOSE OF PESSIMISM
DECLARES REV. P. F. SCHROCK

The world is suffering from an over-dose of pessimism and it is difficult to see any ground for expecting permanent improvement without some fundamental social changes, according to the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church.

In his morning sermon Mr. Schrock spoke of the topic "The World is Growing Better" and said in part:

"We are suffering from an over-dose of pessimism. One must confess that there is ample reason for growing pessimistic. We are confronted by discouraging situations on every hand. The economic situation is serious and it is difficult to see any ground for expecting permanent improvement without some fundamental social changes."

"The international situation makes one concerned about the future peace of the world. There is much evidence to support the charge that humanity is morally bankrupt. The depredations of 'big business men', the crime situation in general and the racketeers in particular, and the changing standards—or loss of standards—in personal conduct all point to the moral depression of the present time. To many people the condition of the church and the outlook for religion are discouraging. The article by Stanley High on the message, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord."

"Jesus made this promise to us," he said, "I go to prepare a place for you, and if I go and prepare a place for you I will come again, and receive you unto myself that where I am there ye may be also."

"Paul sensing the wonders of God's plan exclaimed, 'Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him.'"

Mr. Spear announced another prophecy of Europe for next Sunday night, the subject title being "Will Germany Fight?"

"The Revolt Against God" is quite typical of the attitude of many people as to the church and religion.

"In spite of all this I am foolish enough to make the affirmation that the world is growing better. The church is not as ineffective as we are wont to think. Religion is not dead. Pessimism about the church and religion is not new. Bad as the general situation is, there is justification for the belief that the world is growing better."

Lack of Perspective

"We suffer from a lack of perspective. We need to take a long look and try to see today in relation with other days."

"In the period after the Civil war there was a depression with unemployment, hoboism, and a tendency to escape just obligations. It was a time of graft such as the world had never seen. Promoters of railroads took money both from stockholders and the government and built the roads from the proceeds of bond issues and bonuses—pocketed part of that."

"Legislatures were corrupted as a matter of course. In a fight over the Erie Railroad in the New York legislature Jay Gould and Commodore Vanderbilt each tried to buy the votes. Gould paid an average of $15,000 per vote. Vanderbilt paid one senator $75,000. He took the money from both of them and voted with Gould."

"In the magazine 'The Independent' for January 19, 1865, it was stated that the state of religion in our church is very low. The deaths and dismissals were last year greater than all the receptions. As the aged must die and the young do not join, the consequence is that the church must grow more and more feeble, and unless a change takes place, the church must become extinct. At the time of the outbreak of the Revolution not more than one person out of 25 was a church member. Our colonial and revolutionary ancestors were not all pious, church going folks."

Drinking Respectable

"Drinking was respectable in those good old days. The Methodist Conferences in Baltimore in 1780 and 1783 took a definite stand against liquor, but this was reversed a few years later and the general conference of 1812 refused to require a minister who sold liquor to lose his ministerial standing. In 1865 the National Council of the Congregational Churches decided a resolution in favor of the prohibition of rum selling."

"What is the point of all this you ask? That conditions were bad in the past does not make our present situation any better. There is just one difference between the past and the present—today, people care. There is such a thing as a social conscience. Beesemeyer is in prison; Mitchell and Harrison are being prosecuted; the Insull's have fled from the country to escape prosecution; and Jimmie Walker had to resign as mayor of New York."

Higher Standards

"Business, political and religious standards are higher today than they ever have been in this country of ours. The encouraging thing about the present situation is that the public is terribly disturbed—there is a social conscience."

"The church, more than any other agency, is responsible for this growing conscience. Church attendance may be declining but I doubt if there ever was a time when the church was more influential on the life of the day. One reason why some people do not go to church is because of the high social and moral standard of the church."

"The world is growing better and will continue to grow better because we care, because we have a conscience. And the church of today is responsible for the conscience that will make this a better world."

BELIEF IN GOD
SERMON THEME OF REV. KELLY

Rev. Albert Eakin Kelly, minister of the United Presbyterian church, discussing the theme "I Believe in God" yesterday at the evening service spoke in part as follows:

"In a day when there is widespread indifference to God, as well as active disbelief in Him, as witnessed in Russia and elsewhere, even in Christian America, as Stanley High would put it in the May number of Harper's Magazine, a 'Revolt Against God,' it is well for us to re-affirm our faith in God. And not only that but to discover anew the foundations upon which our faith in Him rests."

"We believe in God first because the universe in which we live and of which we are a part gives proof of His existence. The author of 'Why is Christianity True?' says: 'The totality of existing things in various modes and degrees is the proof that there is a God.' Charles R. Brown in his 'Why I Believe in Religion,' states the case 'I believe in Him because I can explain the universe where I find myself and the process which I see in operation better or that hypothesis than on any other.'"

"Here is illustration. We go into a great city department store. We note the order and system on every hand. Men's wear, women's wear, children's garments, floor after floor with their different departments—everything is arranged with care and plan. And we ask: 'Who worked this all out?' And somebody tells us 'Nobody.'"

"There was neither intelligence nor purpose back of it. There was nothing but matter and force and functions as it does today." We listen to such a word and smile in scorn. We look out upon a universe. Our earth is but a point in its place, in the sweep of worlds and suns and stars. Each one moves according to its orbit. Millions pass and there is no variation. How did all this come into being? And this earth of ours with its majestic mountains, its rushing rivers, its flowers of delicate beauty—how came it to be? And the animal life and man the crown of creation, how explain their existence. Shall we say that there was no intelligence back of all? No purpose and no plan in some almighty mind? "No," we answer. We let the statement of the Book stand 'In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.' We allow the Psalmist to sing the word in answer 'The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament sheweth His handiwork.' We believe in God. "But we believe in God as well because the spiritual element in us demands Him for its satisfaction. Charles R. Brown says that he has found within himself a sense of dependence, a feeling of moral accountability, an impulse to worship, and a longing for fellowship with a being, a person, wiser, stronger, better than himself. The Psalmist found within himself this same spiritual element 'As the hart panteth after the water brooks so panteth after the water brooks so My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God." Augustine put it—'and persistent which does not our hearts are restless until they find rest in Thee.' Does this sense of dependence, this feeling of accountability, this impulse to worship, this desire for fellowship, do these all stand and endure as purely subjective with no answering objective reality over against them?"

"Do spiritual impulses but lead into a blind alley? Do we cry out into the night and hear no answering voice? As someone has said 'We cannot name a single human desire which is normal, widespread. Thou hast made us for Thyself and have standing over against it a corresponding satisfaction.' So there is in us the feeling of dependence, and there stands God

TUCKER URGES REMEMBRANCE OF COMRADES

All World war veterans of Santa Ana were urged to pay honor to their fallen comrades by wearing a memorial poppy on Poppy day, Saturday, May 27, in a message issued today by J. B. Tucker, commander of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion. Commander Tucker declared that the wearing of the poppy is the individual way to show remembrance for the war dead and devotion to the ideals for which they gave their lives. The message stated: "On Saturday, May 27, America will pay its annual tribute to the men who gave their lives in defense of the country in 1917 and 1918 by wearing the memorial poppy. I am sure that every World war veteran and all other patriotic citizens of Santa Ana will wear this token of remembrance on that day. Wearing the poppy means that we have not forgotten our comrades who fell amid the poppies of France and that we are carrying on for America in their spirit.

"The poppies will be offered on the streets here by the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, our wives, mothers, sisters and daughters. They have volunteered for this work, giving their services without thought of personal gain. Disabled veterans have made the poppies which they will distribute, and the contributions they will receive will go entirely to the relief of needy veterans and veterans' families."

BEAUTY CULTURE TOPIC FOR TALK

The French Academy of Beauty Culture Presentation at 7:30 tonight, in addition to presenting a musical program of selected semi-classics, will bring Mrs. Katherine Gilman to the microphone with a most interesting talk for the women of Orange county.

Her topic will be based on the theme: "As You Desire Me," and will reveal the secrets of attractiveness in women. Mrs. Gilman has had more than 17 years experience in making thousands of women attractive and desirable. She will also speak of preventative for blemishes and other conditions conducive to unattractiveness.

MONEY— By Willis Thornton

The powers granted President Roosevelt recently by Congress are to enable him to meet the present critical situation. They constitute far from a finished new money system. That is still to come, and economists are frantically seeking one on which there can be general agreement.

MAY 1920 COMMODITY INDEX 167 DOLLAR CHEAP COMMODITIES DEAR.

FEB. 1933 COMMODITY INDEX 60 SAME DOLLAR DEAR COMMODITIES CHEAP.

One trouble with the gold standard is that the value of a gold coin tends to fluctuate widely in terms of the things it will buy. This sometimes is hard on debtors, as at present. But on the other hand, a gold standard means a certain amount of stability, for currency manipulation has a light string on it as long as actual hard gold remains its basis.

CHAPTER 12—FUTURE POSSIBILITIES

ONE PROPOSAL: ADJUSTING THE GOLD CONTENT OF THE DOLLAR TO COMMODITY PRICES.

Since gold has certain admitted advantages, one typical plan calls for coining of gold bullion into dollars of such weight as will buy a set amount of certain commodities on the day of coining, and to redeem paper dollars with gold dollars on request which shall have the same relationship to those same commodities' price on the day of redemption. Thus the standard would be both gold and flexible.

The object of world-wide conferences today is to set a money standard which shall be permanent and universal. For if it is not permanent, men hesitate to make future contracts on the basis of it, and if it is not universally used, fluctuations and manipulations of the foreign exchange market upset it. These are the goals to which the best economic brains in the world are now working.

THE END.

Buffet Supper Held by League

GARDEN GROVE, May 22.—Members of the Epworth league gathered in the social hall of the Methodist Episcopal church Friday evening for a 6:30 o'clock buffet supper, which had been arranged by Miss Winifred Schneider. Following supper a number of interesting games were enjoyed.

Those attending were the Misses Fern and Joy Schnitzer, Phyllis and Elva Ralston, Marjorie Chaffee, Winifred Schneider, Leah Merchant and Leonard Schauer, Murray Jackson, Walter Bryan, Bob Dozier, the Rev. Grover Ralston and Wayne Holt, adviser.

BUSINESS GOOD IN S. A.: PRICES REPORTED LOW

A survey of local stores reveals there has been no mark up of merchandise by Santa Ana merchants, except in some lines of food stuffs, it was stated today by A. Cavalli, manager of the Santa Ana Merchants association, which organization made the survey.

The survey also revealed that business conditions are picking up. Many of the stores reported an increase in business of from 25 to 40 per cent since Easter week.

As one well known merchant put it, "The folks seem to be in a better frame of mind, they come into our store and buy more readily, our sales have gone ahead 20 per cent over a month ago."

"The women's wear and men's wearing apparel shops are doing a real lively business, it is very noticeable in this line of business the demand for better goods," Cavalli said.

Instead of raising prices, there has been a tendency to lower the same in certain lines, Cavalli added, which circumstance should be taken advantage of by customers. The association man pointed out, however, that many of the big stores in Los Angeles and Long Beach have advanced their prices in anticipation of an upward trend in all commodities. He cited this as added proof of the advantages of trading in Santa Ana.

Cavalli also announced that plans for staging a three-day downtown celebration, designated as La Fiesta Del Oro, set for July 27, 28 and 29, will be completed at a meeting of directors of the association scheduled for next Wednesday. At that time a well known Los Angeles merchant, familiar with the problems of the retail trade, will discuss the situation in California.

NATIONAL D. A. V. LEADER COMING FOR CEREMONY

Among honor guests who will attend the formal presentation of "The Purple Heart," a coveted military decoration, to some 80 Orange county World war veterans, next Wednesday evening in the Willard Junior High school auditorium, North Ross street, is William E. Conley, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, under whose auspices the presentation is to be made. It was announced today by Virgil Marr, adjutant of the Jack Fisher chapter of the D. A. V. of Santa Ana.

Other honor guests invited to the ceremonies, set for 7:45 p. m., are Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors and his colleagues of that body; Superior Judges Homer G. Ames, James L. Allen, and G. K. Scovel; State Senator Nels Edwards and Assemblyman Ted Craig and James B. Utt; mayors of Orange county municipalities, and other officials.

Volney P. Mooney, well known Los Angeles attorney, and for eight years national Judge Advocate of the D. A. V., will make the presentation of the medals, which is awarded to veterans who were wounded overseas while in action against the enemy.

The principal address of the evening will be made by National Commander Conley, who will devote his address to the provisions and effects of the Veterans Economy Act, sponsored by the National Economy League, which, it is charged has not only adversely affected veterans benefits but also shifted the burden of caring for disabled veterans from the federal treasury to local governments and welfare agencies.

An interesting program of music and entertainment, suited for the occasion, has been arranged by Frank D. Corey, in charge of arrangements.

Among those to receive the Order of the Purple Heart, awarded by the War department, are John P. Clavette, Robert M. Crawford, Claude M. Derden, Robert Cochran, F. J. De Sutter, Marshall F. Dunning, Maurice F. Enderle, Don P. Hildreth, John W. Kelsley, Joseph LaLonde, John Leonardo, Olaf B. Lindquist, John M. Makely, Grover C. Murphy, Ivar E. Nelson, Harry S. Pickard, Edwin L. Redford, Cornish J.

More Activity Reported In Real Estate

Reflecting the upward trend in business and a gradual return to normal conditions, is a report of R. J. Van Drimlen, Jr., secretary of the Santa Ana Realty Board, to the effect that there is considerably more interest shown in real estate lines than there has been for some time. People of limited means, seeking investments that are not susceptible to changes in market conditions, are beginning to realize that real estate is not only a gilt-edged but an absolutely safe investment, Drimlen explained.

SUICIDE RATE IN S. A. DROPS DURING 1932

Suicides in Santa Ana for the year 1932 were fewer than in 1931, according to a bulletin from the state department of health received by Dr. Kenneth Sutherland, county health officer.

According to this bulletin there were seven suicides here during the year as compared with eight for 1931. The rate for 1932 was 20.8 and in the year previous the rate was 24.9.

In the entire state there were 1709 people who took their own lives during 1932, and of that number 397 lived in Los Angeles, making that city's rate 28.7 for 1932 as compared to 26.0 for 1931 when 343 Angelenos ended their lives. In both years Los Angeles led the list of California suicides.

The second city on the list was San Francisco with 259 suicidal deaths in 1932 as compared with 247 in 1931, making the 1932 rate 39.1 as against 38.0 in the previous year.

Commenting on the report Dr. Sutherland said that suicide rates always increase during years of hard times. "It is certain that the present economic depression produces damage to mental health as well as physical health. Worry and sense of loss of security, experienced so commonly during these trying times, constitutes important factors in the production of a higher suicide rate."

Dr. Sutherland pointed to state statistics to show that the most suicides occur among single men past middle age who have no home ties nor personal responsibilities. This is shown in the fact that suicide rates are higher in those localities where casual laborers congregate.

La Habra Farm Center To Meet

LA HABRA, May 22.—Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg, will speak on "Irrigation and Fertilization Processes for the Coming Year" at the regular meeting of the La Habra Farm center this evening, at the Washington grammar school.

STATE REPORT LISTS COUNTY ROAD EXPENSES

Although the statistical report of Ray L. Riley, state controller, shows that Orange county spent, during the fiscal year 1931-32, a total of $1,468,705 for county highway and bridge work, or more than the same report showed for last year, the actual amount expended on the road and bridge program totalled $1,032,376.47 or $127,168.31 less than the amount expended in 1930-31, according to county officials.

County Auditor William Lambert pointed out that the state report for 1931-32 included Road Improvement District interest and sinking fund expenditures totalling $146,699.52 and $289,629.57 expended from welfare and road funds in the county's work relief program as highway and bridge expenditures.

Lambert explained that while the interest and sinking fund expenditures are charged to the road department it is carried on the books as a separate fund and not included as a part of the fund set aside for the county road and bridge program.

The state report listed $1,317,274.49 as the county's expenditure for highways and bridges during the previous year, 1930-31. Out of this sum must be deducted $157,829.71 for the interest and sinking fund leaving a balance of $1,159,444.78 actually spent on roads and bridges that year, Lambert says.

Riley's report further shows that all counties in California, in 1931-32 spent a total of $28,238,240 for highways and bridges as compared to $30,464,262 the previous year.

MAN'S HEARING MAY 29

ORANGE, May 22.—Donato Alarcon, alias Don Berea, of North Lemon street, is to appear in the local court for preliminary hearing May 29 at 2 p. m. He was arraigned in Judge Swayze's court Saturday on a statutory charge brought by parents of a six-year-old Orange boy, and is in the county jail under $2500 bond. He was arrested by B. F. Richards, chief of police.

ROTARY. LIONS TO HOLD JOINT MEET TUESDAY

Two noted speakers, Maurice Zam, well known concert pianist, and Charles Hornworth, field secretary of the All-Year Club of Southern California, appear on the program arranged for tomorrow's luncheon meeting of the Santa Ana Rotary club, at Ketter's cafe. It was announced today by Stanley Goode, program chairman, and President George Newcom announced it would be a joint session with the Lions club.

Zam, who has lectured at Harvard university and Radcliff college, will speak on "The History of Music." His reputation as a musician of high order is well known in the United States and Europe, having given concerts on both continents. He was one of the artists on the Civic Music association in Orange county this winter.

"Why the Nation Builds Southern California" is the subject of the address to be given by Hornworth, dealing with organized efforts to build a summer tourist season for Southern California, and at the same time develop a winter tourist season, through national advertising. Hornworth was formerly connected with the Bureau of Community Service, University of Southern California.

Fortieth Anniversary Occasions Surprise Dinner Party

When Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer stopped late last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Diers, 1105 North Main street, and suggested that Mr. and Mrs. Diers accompany them on an early evening automobile ride, the invitation was accepted as informally as it was extended. And it was not until the four close friends drew up at the home in Orange of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pease, non-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Diers, that the latter realized that there was a definite plan in the afternoon drive.

But Mrs. Pease had all in readiness for a family dinner party in celebration of her parents' fortieth wedding anniversary. Her home was gay with flowers, and spiced appetizers for the table were served.

The evening was devoted to bridge, and the presentation to the guests of honor of many lovely gifts, recalled to their minds the day of their wedding, 40 years earlier.

Mr. and Mrs. Diers were married in Los Angeles on May 18, 1893, and on their wedding trip came to Santa Ana where they have made their home in the intervening years. William Diers of this city, Henry Diers Jr. of Los Angeles, Mrs. Arthur Pease of Orange, and Mrs. Emil Bach of Chicago are their four children. It is their intention to leave in June for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Bach in their Chicago home, and they will attend the "Century of Progress" World's Fair in that city.

The little group assembled for the anniversary dinner included in addition to the hosts and honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Pease and Mr. and Mrs. Diers, Miss Barbara Pease of the home, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Andrews, Mrs. Andrews was Miss Dorothy Pease.

Mrs. Gall, president of the local Missionary society, responded with a talk of appreciation.

Dr. Hubbard, dean of the institute, gave an excellent address, and the remainder of the day was spent in visiting library, radio room, Bible Book room, and the auditorium of the Church of the Open Door.

Lovely Garden Affords Setting for Wedding Amidst Its Roses

In what has been declared to be the loveliest garden in the city, that of the Severin Schulte home, 2530 Valencia street, on Saturday afternoon occurred a wedding whose charm was entirely in keeping with the surroundings. The wedding of Miss Helen Beshears, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Schulte, and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Beshears of Vandalla, Mo., to Kemper Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor, 418 West Santa Clara avenue.

Guests assembling for the 2:30 o'clock rite listened appreciatively to a musical to which Madame Manuella V. Budrow-Rafferty contributed two solos, "You Alone" and "Because," and Miss Ruth Armstrong offered the accompaniments as well as the wedding music of Wagner and Mendelssohn, and a program of garden and love songs during the ceremony.

Roses are at the height of their loveliness just now in this charming retreat, especially the gorgeous Paul's scarlet, and an arbor fairly riotous with the glowing blooms, served as an ideal spot for the young couple to repeat their wedding vows.

Professor Howland Merrill of Redlands University, an ordained minister, took his station at this arbor, to be joined by Mr. Taylor and his best man, his brother, J. William Taylor Jr., there to await the approach of the bride.

Entry of Bride
Miss Beshears, pacing across the velvet grass on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Schulte, made a lovely picture in her white gown of satin and tulle, and in crisp folds to her white slippers. Her graceful garden hat had a brief little well encircling its wide brim, and she carried an arm cluster of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Miss Beshears served her sister as honor maid, wearing a frock of Eleanor blue chiffon accented by a great cluster of pale pink sweet peas of the same color as her garden hat and her slippers. Miss Laura Taylor, to be married in June to Carl Steiner of Kernan, Calif., wore a dress of white and gold, and was crowned in daffodil yellow, with hat, slippers and bouquet of sweet peas in the same lovely color.

Ushers were two of Mr. Taylor's college mates at Redlands University, Harry Green of Santa Paula, and George Finley of Santa Ana, and like other men of the wedding party, were in informal attire of white flannels and blue coats.

At Refreshment Hour
Following the wedding rites, the hundred or more guests offered felicitations and then were directed by their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Schulte, to the candle-lit and flower-fragrant dining room for refreshments. Mrs. Schulte wore Eleanor blue with white hat; Mrs. J. W. Taylor was in black and white; Mrs. A. G. Beshears, here from Vandalla for her daughter's marriage, wore delicate pink. All completed their costumes with corsages of white or pink gardenias.

The new Mrs. Taylor cut the first slice of the bride's cake whose tiers rose from the center of a flower laden table, after which Miss Melba Heath of Los Angeles served the cake to guests. Mrs. D. A. Harwood presided at the silver coffee urn, and Mrs. J. William Taylor Jr. served the ice cream roll, centered with bridal symbols.

Mr. and Mrs. Kemper Taylor left in the late afternoon for San Diego and other southern places of interest, the bride traveling in a smart gray flannel suit with all gray accessories. They will return to establish their home in this city, where Mr. Taylor has lived practically all his life and where his bride has lived for the past five years, graduating from junior college and later attending a Los Angeles art school. Mr. Taylor, completing the local schools and junior college, later graduated from Redlands university. He is a member of Kappa Sigma Sigma fraternity and of the Cantando and El Toro clubs of this city.

Chinese Tea
Plans of the First M. E. Missionary society for an Oriental tea, reached an unusually successful conclusion on Friday afternoon of the past week, when scores of members and their guests were entertained in the J. F. Burke home on Panorama Heights.

Richly beautiful Oriental costumes worn by the hostesses and by many of the guests, added a striking note to the scene, enhanced by the assortment of Oriental treasures and curios loaned by Mrs. T. A. Winbiger and Mrs. John W. Doughty, whose many Chinese costumes also were placed at the disposal of the committee on arrangements.

Mrs. Loyal K. King reviewed an interesting book on the Chinese theme, "House of Exile," and Holby Leah Butler sang an aria from "Madame Butterfly" together with other enjoyable solos. Little Peggy Johnson, like a quaint child of the Orient, gave Chinese Mother Goose rhymes, and Miss Peggy Warburton played violin solos, including MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose."

Mrs. H. W. Guthrie, president of the Missionary society, assisted in arranging the program, while other committee workers included Mrs. J. W. McCormack and Mrs. Malt, who served Chinese refreshment to which had been added American cake. Refreshments were served in the patio, gay with swinging lanterns and tables of curios.

Eagle Rock Luncheon Honors Bride-elect Of June

Complimentary to Miss Lorna Allen, whose marriage to Bruce Harding is to be an event of June 1, was a charmingly appointed bridge luncheon given Saturday at Eagle Rock, where Miss Florence Stanley, formerly of this city, entertained in her home at 2317 Fair Park avenue.

With the assistance of her sister, Miss Martha Stanley, and their mother, Mrs. Ernest Stanley, the hostess had arranged a setting of alabaster, pink and yellow snapdragons and coccopis. The four-course luncheon was served at a table centered with pink sweet peas. Place cards were appropriate for the bride portraits of a variety of modern brides, and were the artistic work of Miss Martha Stanley.

A pleasant session followed when guests were invited to the garden for an interval of sewing. Tea towels were hemmed and embroidered and presented to Miss Allen. In addition, she was the recipient of a dainty apron, the gift of Mrs. Stanley. Pictures of the group were taken.

Returning indoors, the guests played bridge until time for tallies to be checked, when it was found that Miss Allen and Miss Miriam Samuelson had tied for high score. Invited guests of the hostess and her assistants, Miss Martha Stanley and Mrs. Stanley, were the Misses Miriam Cruikshank, Helen Bower, Miriam Samuelson, Dorothy Tedford, Agnes McKinstry, Llewellyn Allen, Miss Lorna Allen, her mother, all of this community; Miss Ruth Collins of Laguna Beach; Mrs. William Juvonen, Los Angeles; Mrs. Franklin Van Meter, Long Beach; Miss Miriam McBride, South Pasadena.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL
EAT AND GROW SLIM
Breakfast
Dish of strawberries with 1 tsp. sugar, no cream or
1 sliced orange, minus sugar
1 cup ready-cooked cereal with
1-2 cup whole milk, no sugar
1 cup coffee with 1-4 cup hot skim milk, no sugar
Calory total ..... 225

Fruit, coffee, and a dish of one of the puffed cereals are hardly likely to stay by one with a busy morning's work in the office, so-o-oh, I will be big hearted enough to permit the appearance of a glass of buttermilk, hot skim milk or a cup of broth, in the middle of the morning. This adds less than 100 calories to the day's allowance, and nothing at all in fat calories, but filling up a growing stomach adds tremendously to one's dieting morale.

Requests for the Safe and Sane Reducing Diet are rolling in by the dozen with every mail: This remarkable diet reduces quickly, comfortably, and safely. One may lose from five to fifteen pounds each month on this diet, and then stay at the new low weight level by using the daily Eat and Grow Slim menus.

If you wish this special diet please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope when you write for it, and please allow two weeks for delivery.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Cream Cup Cakes
1 whole egg
2 egg yolks
1-2 tsp. salt
1 cup sugar
1 cup thin cream
3-4 cup cake flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. vanilla

These appeared for luncheon today, with fresh strawberry ice cream, and were so good the recipe is being passed on to you. I like to make them because, congenitally lazy, I hate to cream things, and these require no creaming.

In the mixing bowl put the whole egg, 2 yolks, sugar, salt and cream. Whip to a froth, sift in flour and baking powder. Stir fairly smooth with a spoon, then take the egg beater and whip until the batter looks like thick cream. Add vanilla and bake in muffin tins, brushed with butter. The recipe makes 24 cakes.

Cream Coconut Frosting
2 egg whites
1-2 cup brown sugar
1-2 cup sifted powdered sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
6 drops almond ext.
Shredded coconut, ad lib.

Put the egg whites (unbeaten) into a cool bowl with the two kinds of sugar. Whip hard until a thick meringue results. Add flavoring.

Pick up each little cake, dip its top into the soft frosting, deep, then dip the frosted top into a dish filled with coconut. Place the frosted cakes on a pan and let them brown for a minute in a hot oven. This just sets the frosting and prevents the cakes being too mushy to handle.

Each little cake has an energy calory value of 125.

ANN MEREDITH.

Found ANSWER TO UGLY PIMPLES

ONCE SHE HATED HERSELF!
EVEN when the news that she was ugly, blotchy, and had a skin that was itching and burning, she found nothing that helped—until a friend hinted "CAGNEU'S" and advised her to try it. (Nature's Remedy). They tried and strengthened the entire eliminative tract—and her system of poison was thoroughly saturated. Soon her skin bloomed naturally, pale cheeks glowed again. Try this safe, dependable, all-vegetable laxative and corrective tonight. Non-habit-forming. At all drugists.

FAITH NEED OF WORLD, PASTOR SAYS IN TALK

VILLA PARK, May 22.—The Rev. Wesley P. Ford, pastor of Villa Park Community church, preached Sunday morning on the subject, "Yesterday's Problems and Today's." His text was taken from Hebrews 13:8—"Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, and today, and forever." He said in part:

"We are living today in a world that is ill at ease. Turn wherever we will and we see sorrow or pain or suffering. Men and women all around us are in trouble. In the midst of so much dissatisfaction and agony we can see certain individuals and institutions that seem willing and anxious to lend a helping hand—but something is lacking, willingness and anxiety are not sufficient to save a generation. The driving force that would put righteousness and justice over the top is lacking, and so the world moves on full of despair, as men and women strive for their own ends and search for the meaning of life.

"We are disciples of Christ; we are His followers. The whole world is standing anxiously waiting for a cure. The world waits at the threshold of the church today. Can you offer us any solution? Do you suggest any cure for the ills of the world? Though it may seem paradoxical, the church in most cases is just as anxious to help and to serve as the world is to be helped and served.

"The disciples were anxious to cast the devil out of the lunatic, but they could not do it, and they did not know why they could not. When Jesus came and rebuked the devil, the disciples came to him and said, 'Why could not we cast him out?' Here again is heard the voice of the church today as it cries out, 'Why cannot I do more?' Why cannot we in the church find the power to cope with the many situations which confront us? Why do we lack the necessary force to cast the demons out of business, out of governments, out of all the world's?

"Jesus in direct reply to the question of the disciples, 'Why could not we cast him out?' said, 'Because of your unbelief; for verily I say unto you, if you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place and it shall move, and nothing shall be impossible unto you.' Is this the answer to our problems today?

"Throughout the Old and New Testaments it seems almost a universal law that where there was trouble there was lack of faith.

"Through faith Jesus pointed everyone to peace and happiness. We wonder today what the world needs to make it whole and to give it peace. Why cannot the religion of Christ do many wonderful works in the world today? Maybe it is still because we lack sufficient faith. We are suspicious of men all around us, we are jealous and afraid. Rather than give God the reins we stand back and wonder if it is going to be all right. When Peter wondered he began to sink."

COUNTY GUILD PRESENTS PLAY IN PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, May 22.—Sponsors of the youth dramatic movement were entertained Friday night by Orange County Little Theater guild when the members of the cast of "In The Next Room" presented to them a play in three acts that was highly colorful in characterization, and presented in a manner that precluded the thought that it was amateur production.

The director, Miss Marjorie Travers, was complimented on the work accomplished, as were members of her assisting workers and the members of the cast.

"Phillip Bantline," the collector of art goods, was played by George Littlefield of Anaheim. "Lorna Webster," Bantline's niece, was played by Mrs. Alice Raffi of Fullerton. "Lorna's" boy friend, "James Godfrey," a reporter, was taken by Alec Geren, Anaheim. "Felix Armond," an art dealer, was played by Talbot Bielefeldt, a local boy who has had part in many dramatic productions.

Darrell Webb of Anaheim played the part of "Grady," the policeman. Clifford Jarrett of Fullerton played "Simmons," the police detective, and the part of "Morel," another policeman, was taken by Harry Dundale of Anaheim.

T. P. Hunter of Fullerton played "Parker," the butler; "Rogers," the footman, was played by Ralph French of Fullerton; Mrs. Laura Harland of Anaheim played "The Dutch de Carriere," and Norene Henry of Atwood played "Julia," her maid.

THE PRACTICAL MAN

The practical man has been very much deflated the last few years, while the scholar and the research man is experiencing a marked inflation. The practical man has had his innings for some time, and as a result of his control the world is in bad shape. The practical politician, the practical business man, and the practical banker,—if results are the measure of success,—to say the least, have not made good. The Kreuger debacle, the Insull collapse, the bank failures, and the general business collapse have raised the cry for a "new deal."

The response to that call has brought the professor to the front in government and in all departments of business and financial activity. There has been some sneering at the impractical professor, and his inability to become a realist. It is said that he may be all right in his classroom, but not in the world of practical affairs. Of course, the professor happens at the present time to have the inside position in the race. He can point to complete failure in the financial, the economic and the political world. He can reasonably ask those who have been in control of these various departments of human activity, "Give an account of your stewardship, and what have you to say for yourself?"

Above this discussion we hear the voice of the young president of Chicago University, Robert M. Hutchins, and it might be well to hear what he has to say. Making the assertion that the travesty of the Insull failure might have been averted if attention had been paid to the repeated warnings issued from the University of Chicago, that the fatal step involved in the passage of the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill would not have been taken if Mr. Hoover had heeded the counsel of practically all the professors of economics in the colleges and universities of this country, instead of a small group of business men who have been reaping the benefits of high protection, he considered himself competent to pass on the criticism which is being made in some quarters upon President Roosevelt for taking advice from professors.

President Hutchins maintains that the professor has a great contribution to make which neither politicians nor business men have yet made; and that contribution is the "application of clear, disinterested, honest, trained intelligence to the great problems that confront us." Such a construction, says Dr. Hutchins, "many of those who have ruled over us the past ten years" have not given us. He would not say that the professor has become a practical man. But, he says, "the practical man has demonstrated in recent years that he has practiced all the errors of his forefathers." The professor's sole desire is to be right, "because he has no axes to grind and because he can pursue the truth for its own sake."

We believe that President Hutchins has hit the nail on the head. It is a well-known fact, which we pointed out recently in these columns, that the expert finds a place in every department of government and business. Policies are determined by practical men both in government and in business, but the professor has the facts of experience. Dr. Salvemini, the noted Italian political scientist, said recently at a private luncheon that there has been no change in the conduct of the Italian government whatever under Mussolini. Outside of certain political set-ups, the Italian government is going on just as it did before the dictatorship. Even a Mussolini would not dare to tamper with the details of Italian governmental and economic life. These are still controlled by the bureaucrats,—the experts,—who are the permanent officials of the government.

We are willing to give the professors their chance, especially as all their recommendations come under the scrutiny of men of affairs before they are whipped into final shape.

U. S. OUTGROWS ISOLATION

According to dispatches received today from Geneva, our administration at Washington has completely ceased its isolation policy. Mr. Davis declares that the United States will join with the other nations of the earth in a program against an aggressor nation, which crosses a frontier in violation of treaty rights. In other words, the United States ceases to sit on the fence. It no longer proposes to remain utterly neutral.

It is assuming the prerogatives of exercising discrimination and judgment in world affairs. It proposes frankly to base its estimate upon conditions in warfare and to take sides. The truth is, it is forced to do so. The world has shrunk until we are in a "neighborhood", as is often said. The United States is affected in all of its relationships by a war anywhere. It finally has to recognize such relationships and assume an attitude in respect to it. If it assumed that attitude in the beginning, it might prevent difficulty.

The quick mind of Theodore Roosevelt at times aided in such direction, and so did that of Grover Cleveland. We wonder what Hearst will say, and Hiram Johnson. There never has been a stranger spectacle than intelligent men failing to see a perfectly clear situation. This should satisfy France. Maybe it is not as specific as she would like it, but it certainly has gone a long way and it applies the same spirit of protection and security to Germany as to France. If it were retro-active, it would affect the Japanese-Chinese situation.

Best of all, the nations are agreeing on a ten year truce, in which the spirit of all the compacts that have been entered into, looking toward peace, shall be carried out for a period of ten years. There is no reason why this should not mean perpetually, because if it can last for ten years it can last forever.

BEER DISAPPOINTMENTS MULTIPLY

The figures are now obtainable for the great beer month of April—the month when it went on sale; when carloads were shipped here, there and yonder; when people drank it out of curiosity; bought it out of hilarity, and a few because they remembered it.

The total amount of revenue received by the government for it was eight and a quarter million dollars. The beer barons and their satellites declared that if you brought liquor back, it would pay the government a billion dollars in taxes. The forecast was that beer alone would give the country $150,000,000.

On the basis of the figures of probably the biggest month that beer will have during the financial year, there will be at least one third less in government revenue than the President estimated. They aren't quite as big beer tubs in the country as they were judged to be, and this, it should be noted, was on the big month of the year. Soon we will hear what May's sales show. We seriously doubt if May's sales will be as high as April's, although April was a short month. We are afraid the government itself will have to invest in a few thousand barrels of beer to bring up the expected revenue.

We greatly admire our President for many things that he has done, but when he proposes that the nation will drink itself out of debt, we would say that he made the suggestion not in his most lucid moment.

ANOTHER STATE RATIFIES THE CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

A report from Concord, N. H., states that the Senate has ratified the Child Labor amendment to the Federal Constitution, and that the House will probably concur. This adds another state to the column of seven already listed. Doubtless, others will follow.

A new impetus has been given the movement since the revelations of child exploitation in sweat shops and other places have been made public. With millions of men out of work, it is wicked to utilize immature children in industry. The powerful support of a movement seeking to wipe out these evils, given by the wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania recently, as well as the new emphasis upon the rights of children to a normal life in their developing years, is destined to make itself felt in other legislatures. The new activity on the part of organizations devoted to child welfare is another sign that the twenty-first amendment will soon find a place in the federal constitution.

Breakable Babies

Christian Science Monitor

Of the many children who enter slumberland through that dreamy portal called Lullaby, at least a few must acquire a deep perplexity. "Rock a bye, baby, on the tree top," is of itself a suggestion with a charming prospect. But the subsequent warning—"If the bough breaks the cradle will fall"—must seem ill-calculated to usher a baby into a state of restful quietude.

Especially since babies have been declared "breakable" does the inappropriateness of the line appear. And here a word of credit must go to Dr. W. C. Beasley of Johns Hopkins University. For Dr. Beasley it is who has just declared that infants should not be dropped on the floor from their parents' arms—let alone from tree tops. Moreover, it is to be gathered from the doctor's pronouncements that this applies to all infants, even those sometimes alluded to as bouncing babies.

But it should not be supposed that the theory of destructibility as it concerns babyhood condemns such gentle practices as rocking, and even tossing the child. Records of babies rocked and tossed prove that the long list of "don'ts" in this connection may be ignored, according to Dr. Beasley. Of course, when you toss the tot, you must do it with a certain amount of technique, never forgetting that how and where the baby lands is an important point to consider.

As for rocking the baby, most parents will agree that the really important thing in this process is to be reasonably sure that it is the child who is falling asleep.

Chicago Catching Up

Oakland Tribune

There are many in Chicago who will celebrate the opening of the Exposition with heightened spirits. Checks amounting to more than 12 million dollars have been handed to 14,000 teachers and 4000 other school employees.

Indicating how long those teachers have been going without pay is the fact these checks represent salaries for last October, November and December. The teachers suffered because of poor government in Chicago's past and because of a tax fight during which a number of the largest property owners withheld payments, awaiting a decision. These influences, added to those which came with general conditions all but emptied the treasury and the teachers were forced to shoulder most of the burden.

Within a week Chicago has been able to pay up for four months in arrears. It is aiming to catch up and wipe out what it rightly considers a disgrace. In the meantime, it has built a magnificent exposition.

Exploiting Children

Pomona Progress-Bulletin

The more one hears about the way child workers are treated in some manufacturing plants the more horrible the whole business seems.

Latest reports from certain Pennsylvania shops show that more than 12,000 children under the age of 16 in the Pittsburgh district are working in clothing sweatshops for $2 to $3 a week. The 60-hour week is common, and these little workers get fined regularly from 10 cents to $1.50 for "making mistakes."

Nor are these conditions peculiar to Pennsylvania. The National Child Labor Committee can tell you about other sweatshops in Connecticut, Louisiana and Utah; it cites, as an example, sweatshops in New Haven where children of 14 and 15 work for $1 a week.

It is still possible for the states to ratify the child labor amendment. After reading these reports, it is hard to be patient with the amendment's opponents.

So What?

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

TOO MUCH LOVE STUFF

I do not care for lovers on the screen,
I never like to watch them bill and coo;
The and ones and the souful
Seem to me extremely doleful—
I hate to watch some other fellow woo.
When I hear an E flat tenor's serenade
I am never much affected by the song;
If he cops the winsome lady,
By her name Sue, Bess, or Sadie,
I'm convinced they won't be wedded very long.

But I revel in a good four-fisted fight,
Or a battle with six-shooters or with chairs,
Or a trade of savage punches,
To the region of their lunches.
Or a struggle in the native style of bears.
I like to watch the scenery collapse.
While the fighters brawl with predatory rage,
When the window glass is crashing
And the furniture is smashing
Till there's nothing much but scraps left on the stage.

But the trouble is that every blessed fight
Is a battle for possession of some jame;
Not a quarrel would be started
If these lads were not soft-hearted
Over some young minx whose heart they hoped to gain.
If they did their husky stuff for gold or gems,
And no girl was at the bottom of the fight—
If they fought just to be fighting
Every punch would seem exciting,
And I'd sit there quite transported with delight.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

WHAT IS INFLATION?

Since inflation is now possible—if not in immediate prospect—under the permissive legislation which grants extraordinary monetary authority to the president, it may be helpful to many to set down in these articles a few of the elementary facts regarding inflation.

Today I want to state what inflation is not and what inflation really is.

An increase of currency and credit is not of necessity inflation.

A government may increase its currency and credit may be markedly expanded without inflation as a result.

A general increase in purchasing power is not of necessity inflation.

A vast increase in popular purchasing power may occur without inflation.

An increase in prices, sporadic or general, is not of necessity inflation.

Prices may rise greatly without inflation being at all in the picture.

I am using the word inflation here, not in the simple dictionary sense of the distention or expansion of something, but in the special monetary sense that the word is used to describe a government manipulation of currency and credit.

In this special monetary sense, inflation is the forced expansion of credit and currency beyond the actual needs of business.

"Inflation takes place when the circulating medium increases faster than trade," say Warren and Pearson in their recently issued volume on Prices. "If money always changed in quantity exactly in proportion to the physical amount of business done, there would never be any inflation or deflation, and the general price level would remain approximately constant, although the prices of individual commodities would continue to fluctuate. The value of money depends on supply and demand exactly as does the value of any other commodity. An increase in the circulating medium, relative to trade needs, results in depreciation in the monetary unit. The purchasing power of money is reduced."

I set down these simple observations in order that we may be careful not to brand as inflation what may simply be an intelligent and realistic adjustment of our credit and currency to the actual needs of business.

HALF-PAST TWO

"The last half hour of the day is terrible. I count the seconds until the bell rings." There speaks the inexperienced teacher. After she has been teaching for a few years she knows that that last half hour is the depression period and provides for it.

After working all day the children are tired. Their brains do not act as quickly, their bodies do not move as easily and as accurately as they did at half past ten. They wriggle and yawn, drop their books, lose their places in the lesson, whisper and giggle. The inexperienced teacher will try to jack them up and hold them in rigid order until the dismissal bell sets them free with a rush and whoop that shakes the rafters. The experienced teacher changes the subject, allows them to relax and forget.

It is not wise to ask children to sit in rigid attitudes, hands on the desk, shoulders touching the back of the bench, feet flat on the floor, eyes front. That is fatal at half-past two in the afternoon. It leads to unrest and finally, if the teacher persists, to open rebellion.

Save a rest lesson for that time. Sing a couple of songs, no don't try to teach a new one, or to read difficult music. Sing for the pleasure it gives, and don't ask for more application to work. That time has gone by. This is the slowing down time. Let them recite poetry that they know and like. Concert work helps here. I like concert work for a rest exercise. It is out of place in the learning period but it comes in this place neatly. Tell them a story. Read from a good book. A long story read in chapters is just the thing. Whatever you do, dear teacher, don't put on the pressure and steam full ahead at half-past two. It cannot be done with any degree of success and you will get a headache.

I think saving the teacher a headache is important. If she has a feeling of pain in her head or her heart it is reflected on the class and they become restless and uneasy and work goes to the board. The school day ought to be planned for the welfare of the teacher and the children together. The teacher is tired about that time and if she and the class get together in some restful work the end of the day be the sort that sends the children out of school with a good taste in their mouths and a desire to return again in the morning. They will leave school smiling and chattering but there will be no whoops of release. That dismissal whoop tells its own story of fatigue and depression and it is to be regarded an evil sign.

I think that the end of the day is almost as important as the start. When we send children home after a nagging half hour they carry with them a feeling of opposition to school that means poor home work, tardiness in the morning, a poor attitude when we send them home in good heart we have begun the next day's work in the right attitude.

One more point. Change the air in the classroom at half-past two. The fresh air, a stirring of bodies, a change of work, will stimulate the flagging energies. A bit of planning on the teacher's part and the bridge is crossed.

Here and There

There are 24,000 concerns in the United States which either deal in waste material or use them as raw materials in their own industries.

Witherite was recently discovered in a mine in Durham county, England; it is four or five times as valuable as coal and both minerals are now being mined at the same time.
